

MISSION STATEMENT – MICHAEL RITCHIE

TEM MISSION STATEMENT

My mission is to graduate from Full Sail University's Web Design & Development program with a 3.5 GPA or better by 2016. I will accomplish this by exuding a sense of grace, vitality, and timeliness. By displaying a sense of grace I will refine all of my work with finesse, creating simple & elegantly formatted work that is palpable to the eye. This grace will also allow me to honor & respect my fellow students while also showing compassion & kindness to the staff of Full Sail University. By showing this respect to others I will also exude a sense poise and balance within myself. My vitally will shine through the content of my work, showing a sense of purpose and reasoning behind my material. With this developed reasoning I will then drive home a strong message. This vitality will cause myself to bring a sparkle and zest to the material I create. Being conscious of time I will move with an air of timeliness. This will be done by turning in assignments before the due dates, doing activities quickly and efficiently and lastly respecting the time of others. Moving forward I will accept other dogmas, values and time as pertinent & relevant as my own. Through the use of grace, vitality and timeliness I will succeed in the program of Web Design & Development, creating a strong & successful foundation for my life in the industry of the World Wide Web.

ANALYSIS

After thorough analysis of my mission statement I have deemed the key elements of my proclamation relevant, however there are mechanical errors in need of rectification. I am now able to recognize this having become aware of my previous writing style, and having overcome this weakness. Along with this change I have had room for personal growth, and am now setting and striving for larger goals. With this developed approach I now have the strength to handle issues with a positive attitude, and a sense of grace. My personal growth has also furthered my ability to showcase my talents in the work place. Having this strive to constantly improve upon myself has pushed me to seize the opportunity to modernize, and revamp my company's logo, and marketing graphics. Having gone halfway through my journey, I will continue to present my best self in my personal, professional, and academic life and will be open to recognizing threats to my voyage. Therefore, I am moving ahead on my journey and pushing forward with a positive outlook.

UPDATED MISSION STATEMENT

My mission is to present my best self in my personal, professional, and academic life, and to accomplish the goal of graduating from Full Sail University's Web Design & Development program with a GPA of 3.75 or better by 2017. I will achieve this by exuding a sense of grace, vitality, and timeliness. By displaying a sense of grace I will refine all of my work with finesse, creating simple, and elegantly formatted work that is palpable to the eye. This grace will also allow me to honor, and respect my fellow students while also showing compassion, and kindness to the staff of Full Sail University. Having shown respect for others will also allow myself to exude a sense of poise, and balance. My vitally will shine through the content of my work, and I will be able to show a sense of purpose and reasoning behind my material. With this developed reasoning I will then drive home a strong message. This vitality will bring a sparkle and zest to the material I create. Being conscious of time I will move with an air of haste. This timeliness will be done by turning in assignments before the due dates, doing activities rapidly, and efficiently, and by respecting the time of others. Moving forward I will accept others dogmas, values, and time as valid my own. Through the use of grace, vitality, and timeliness I will present my best self and will succeed in the program of Web Design & Development, creating a strong & successful foundation for my life in the industry of the World Wide Web.